Taking of Church Census Is Systematically Begun

The taking of the church census in Charleroi has been begun under the direction of the Adult Federated classes, and two churches are ready to make reports from their districts. The others will get the work under way and completed as soon as possible. The town is divided into six districts and each Protestant church has a district, with the exception of the Baptist and French Presbyterian churches, which combine in doing the work in one district.

DO NOT MENTION TENER

Under the electric sign emblazoned with the inscription "For Governor, John K. Tener," at the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue, the cohorts of the Keystone party in Charleroi, strengthened by a larger majority of curiosity-seeking Tener adherents, held an open-air spell-binding session last night.

For speakers there were Rev. Freesley Thompson of Washington, who has acquired considerable free advertising by his radical talks and writings within the past few weeks, and Rufus Marriner, Esq., of Washington, whom Acheson put up as a candidate for the Assembly nomination on the Republican ticket against Bentley and had the best of being him most

October noted as the month of 1907 when all records were broken for coal shipments through Lock No. 4, this year witnessed rather a small shipment. Considering the conditions however, it was good and surpassed the October shipment for 1908, but was the second lowest shipment of this year.

The total amount of coal passing through the lock during October was 14,538,000 bushels. The biggest daily shipment of the month was made on October 17, when 745,000 bushels were loaded.

During the month there were 592 lockages made down stream. Steamers passing down were 322 and there were 1,422 boats, barges and flats locked through. Up stream there were 620 lockages made, 321 steamers and 1,372 boats, barges and flats passing up. The rainfall was 1.82 inches, the most rainfall for a single day being on October 22 when .65 of an inch fell.

During September 16,268,000 bushels of coal were put through Lock No. 4 and the previous month there was a total shipment of 15,697,000 bushels. During October 1909 there was a shipment of 15,320,000 bushels, and during 1908 there was a shipment of 11,400 bushels. The smallest month

Giboney's Lame Excuse

The explanation of D. Clarence Giboney, Keystone candidate for Lieutenant Governor, as to how he came to get caught in one of the get-rich-quick swindling concerns, is rather lame. Giboney accepted some shares of stock in the concern and was elected a director of the same, promoted by a man whose photograph adorns the Rogue's Gallery in Philadelphia and who is now a fugitive from justice, after having swindled those connected with his concern to the extent of $10,000 or more. The Keystone candidate, who poses as a corrector of morals, says he went into the company and got himself elected director because he wanted to find out for a client of his whether the concern was all right. Having ascertained its standing he dropped out and thus saved his client $50,000 the latter thought of investing. Mr. Giboney, however, did not expose the company, nor make any effort to apprehend the promoter in order to protect other stockholders or investors. He issued no word of warning to others and permitted the alleged swindler to go his way and swindle his booty. He may have saved his client as he says, but he failed to perform an important duty to the public. In this he is in line with the right-wing citizen who played the same game with the "O Lord, bless me and my money" son John and his wife. In all probability Giboney was into the company as a director, in the course of business, and by becoming attorney, and by becoming director of the company.

turn what corporate legal business there was to do in his own direction. When he saw the business was not likely to "pan out" he got out of it. He may have advised some of his friends not to invest in the concern after he had learned its true standing, but the excuse that he went into it just to expose it, and then failed to make any public exposures when he learned that the concern was a swindle, is too lame to palm off on the public. Mr. Giboney yielded to the lure of the business the concern offered and got caught. He might as well take his medicine and remember, the precept, when he is going about the State bearing false witness against his neighbors, "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone."

Seasonal Patriotism

In his address here at the Keystone rally last evening Rufus Marriner, Esq., one of the orators, displayed the usual weakness of political and civic reformers who permit themselves to be actuated by sentiment, rather than judgment. Mr. Marriner's grievance is that of alleged political bossism, and he falls into the error common to zealots of his class that voters are more likely to be better patriots in November than in June. In exhorting voters to forsake their former political allegiance and cast their lot with a self-formed party representing no particular principle that there is not the basis of the old organized parties, and without cohesion, organization or fixed policy, Mr. Marriner evidently overlooks the fact that both the Republican and Democratic parties offer a better opportunity within themselves to effect political and civic reforms than any new party that may be organized for that purpose. All these reforms must be effected by the vote of the electors. If the Keystone party hopes to become permanent, it must devote the larger part of its efforts to effecting an organization, and when this is done the voter must decide for itself. A new party must be governed by the same primary election and election laws and must nominate candidates in precisely the same manner as the older parties, delegates to the State convention as well as local, county and State candidates. That being the case, earnest and sincere reformers can accomplish infinitely more now by devoting their energies toward arousing the voters to support good men at the primaries in the old parties that are already organized than by following so-called independent movements which in the nature of themselves offer no permanence.

Mr. Marriner, himself, is an example of this. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Assembly at the June primaries, but was defeated. It was evident that a majority of the voters did not want him in June, and he had good judgment enough to realize that they would not have any more reason to desire him in November, and so very wisely kept off the Keystone ticket, for which he is now campaigning. When these seasonal reformers realize that patriotism is not seasonal, but is a constant thing, they will cease their November patriotism and devote their time to the primary election, and thus become the fountain head of all reform.

VAN VALKENBURG TO FACE JURY

Early Trial of Tener's Criminal Suit Demanded.

COMPANY SEEKS DAMAGES

National Public Utilities Corporation Sues For $250,000 For Alleged Malicious Libel.
Following up the binding over for court of E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor of the North American, on the charge of criminal libel, made upon affidavit of John K. Tener, the Republican nominee for governor now demands that the case shall be brought to trial at the earliest possible moment.
Mr. Tener wants a complete judicial investigation of the charges made by Editor Van Valkenburg, all of which Mr. Tener has denied under oath, and he insists that there shall be no unnecessary delay in bringing the case to an issue.
The dastardly nature of the attacks made upon Mr. Tener has reacted upon the authors and absolutely failed of the purpose.
A. S. L. Hils, of counsel for Mr. Tener, in bringing the case against Editor Van Valkenburg, charged him with want and demagogic libel, and in referring to his client, he said:
"Mr. Tener is a resident of CharleROI, Pa. He has a life of probity and righteousness and his conduct has been such that his neighbors and constituents have never failed to place him as a candidate for the office of governor of Pennsylvania."
"This citizen of Pennsylvania is known and honored by all his neighbors and friends. His family name has been a household name and he has been elected to a Republican convention to be the nominee for governor of Pennsylvania."
"Mr. Tener has been a candidate for that office for many years."

He then reviewed the attacks made upon Mr. Tener and held him in advance of the original publication of the newspaper, and solicited sales of extra copies based upon what it was going to say about Mr. Tener.
Waiving his legal right to ask a commitment on the affidavit, Mr. Tener took the stand as the only witness at the hearing, saying that he was perfectly willing to tell every detail of his connection with the National Public Utilities corporation and the Security Life and Annuity company, and to prove that he entered those corporations honestly, and openly and for legitimate business reasons.
After he had given direct testimony as to his connections with the two companies he was subjected to a rigid cross examination by former Judge James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mr. Van Valkenburg. In spite of the numerous questions hurled at him and the lawyer's efforts to entrap him, Mr. Tener replied to every question in a straightforward manner, bearing out all of the public statements he has made since the charges against him were published.
As the result of his testimony Mr. Van Valkenburg was held in $5000 bail for court on the charge of having criminally libeled the candidate, causing injury to his business and reputation. Bail was furnished and Mr. Van Valkenburg was released.
Heavy Damages Demanded.
Mr. Van Valkenburg being brought before the court by Candidate Tener, he and the North American have been sued for $250,000 damages by the National Public Utilities corporation, the company for which he was editor and which has been the subject of the suit at this time.

HERE'S SOME FIGURES FOR YOU!

From the Uniontown Herald

For the benefit of its readers. The Herald will do a little figuring this morning. The respective friends of Messrs. Tener and Berry who are speculating on the result of the approaching election should be interested. He who runs may read them.
In a total vote of 1,005,587 cast for Governor in this State in 1906, E. S. Stuart, the Republican candidate won with a plurality of 48,846.
Stuart was on two tickets. On the Republican ticket he polled 301,818 votes; on the Citizen 4,600, which gave him a total of 506,418.
Lewis Emery was no less than five tickets. He polled 301,747 Democratic votes; 145,667 Lincoln Republicans; 6,194 Commonwealth, 781 Prohibitionist, and 3,675 Union Labor votes. Total vote, 458,064.
The Prohibitionist candidate polled 24,793 and the Socialist 15,169.
A number of other candidates received the scattering vote.
Lewis Emery was a strong candidate and a formidable fighter. He represented not alone the Democrats and the Independent Republicans, but he was on three other tickets. Still with all his strength he polled 43,554 votes less than Mr. Stuart's Republican vote alone.
Now for the figuring.
Let us suppose by way of making allowance for a total unlooked for slump that Tener, polls 100,000 less votes than Stuart did four years ago. Remember, we are not admitting any such defection, but just allowing for it. That would give Tener a total vote in the coming election of 401,818.
Let us suppose too, and this supposition will not be extreme by any means that Grim polls 100,000 less Democratic votes than were cast for Emery four years ago. That would give Grim 201,747 votes.
Then let us add the 401,818 that we give Tener, and we have a total of 603,565.
Now let us give all the rest of the vote in the State to Berry, including the Lincoln Republican votes, the Prohibition vote, the Socialist vote and all the scattering vote. If the total vote four years ago was 1,006,587, and after reducing the Republican vote 100,000 and the Democratic vote 100,000 it is found that the total vote of Tener and Grim will be 603,565, what does that leaves Berry? Why it leaves him 403,022.
But these 403,022 votes would not elect Berry, even if it gives him 1,204 votes more than we allow Tener. Look here:
Allowing 20,000 votes to the Prohibition candidate or 4,793 votes less than the Prohibition vote cast for Governor four years ago. And allowing 25,000 votes to the Socialist candidate, and it will run nearer 50,000, as against 15,169 votes cast for the Socialist candidate four years ago. And allowing a scattering vote of 5,000, which is conservative. This gives us a total of 50,000 votes which must come off the total of 403,022 which we allow Berry above. This reduces his vote to 353,022.

Now we have it—Berry, 353,022; Tener's plurality—48,796.
To make a long story short, while cutting Tener 100,000 from Stuart, and cutting Grim 100,000 from the Democratic vote given to Emery, and cutting the Prohibition vote near 5,000, and giving all this vote to Berry and allowing an increase of but 5,000 in the Socialist vote, we still show that Tener will lead Berry by nearly 50,000 votes.
It will thus be seen that with Berry and Grim dividing the vote cast for Emery four years ago it will take a terrific landslide to beat Tener. With any kind of decent party support Tener should win by a plurality of at least 20,000. This is careful, conscientious, conservative figuring. If the Herald were in the business of making party claims, it would say Tener's plurality will be twice that figure. But The Herald is not claiming anything.
In the editorial above The Herald shows that Berry cannot win even if the Republican and Democratic parties lose 200,000 votes from their poll of four years ago in the Stuart Emery campaign.
There are 67 counties in this State. When it is remembered that such a defection would mean a loss to both the old parties of 3,000 votes to each county the supposition is ridiculous.
In 1904 Theodore Roosevelt had a plurality of 505,519 votes over Alton B. Parker. In 1908 the very next year, W. H. Berry, Democrat, had a plurality over J. Lee Plummer, Republican, for State Treasurer of 88,194. That shows how things will turn.
But Berry's vote that year included 51,399 Prohibition votes and 17,286 Independence party votes. Besides, that year, Berry polled the full Democratic vote, whereas this year the Democratic party has a candidate of its own and so has the Prohibition party.
Does this not show that even with the terrific Berry landslide of 1905 again in his favor he cannot win, even if Mr. Tener's vote is cut more than 20,000 votes from the Republican vote polled by the unfortunate Plummer for State Treasurer in 1905 which was 424,478?

THE BEY'S GUEST.

He Was Ready For the Emergency and Conquered the African.

A show of force is often the best kind of diplomacy. A writer in the Paris Temps tells a story of the French admiral Dupetit-Thouars, who had been intrusted with the mission of exacting reparation from an African bey who had insulted a French consul. As Dupetit-Thouars' demands were supported by the forcible argument of loaded cannon, the bey acknowledged that he had been too hasty and proffered profuse apologies. He even invited the admiral to his table and had a sumptuous repast prepared for his guest.

The consul warned the admiral to be on his guard.

"The bey is inclined to be malicious," said he, "and when he strokes his beard and smiles you may be sure that he is conceiving some mischief."

"We shall see," was Dupetit-Thouars' reply.

He reached the bey's palace in good time. Profuse compliments and salutations were exchanged. All at once the admiral's foot met some soft, hairy substance lying on the carpet under the table. He bent down and saw a huge lion showing his formidable teeth. The bey smiled and stroked his beard.

Dupetit-Thouars did not wince, but called his dragoman.

"My pistols," was all he said.

The servant saluted, retired and brought back a pair of pistols on a silver tray. The admiral took them and placed them on the table before him. But the bey, still smiling, continued to stroke his patriarchal beard. "Tell the commander," he said to the dragoman, "that if those pistols are for the purpose of blowing out my lion's brains they are quite insufficient and perfectly useless."

Then, like a skilled fencer countering his opponent's thrust, after the bey's ironical advice had been translated Dupetit-Thouars replied: "Tell his highness that my pistols are not there to kill his lion, but to blow his own brains out at the first movement of this objectionable carpet."

Gravely, but a little pale, the man interpreted.

The smile died away on the bey's lips, and he no longer stroked his beard.

"My lion," said he, "is too well trained even to scratch one of my guests, but since he is not wanted he shall be sent away."

At a word from the bey the lion slowly and heavily left the room, like an obedient dog.

Facts For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Minneapolis, Minn.--"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to be derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."--Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St., North Minneapolis, Minn.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

No matter how much it has been abused, we can fix your watch.

ORTH AMERICAN GOES UP IN THE AIR ATTEMPTING TO RIGHT ITSELF

Keystone Candidate's Lame Excuse is That He Went Into Doubtful Venture to "Play Detective"

ILY SELFISH INTERESTS IN PROTECTING CLIENT

The exposure by the Philadelphia Ledger of the fact that D. Gibson, a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, served on the directorate of a rich-quick concern headed by a k whose portrait is in the Philadelphia Rogues' Gallery, gave the landing toes of Republicanism pause. Their dirty work and set them to aining. His exposure put the Philadelphia American up in the air, and t effectively "got its goat." North American is the paper started the scandalous attacks. Congressman John K. Tener, and se editor, E. A. Van Valkenberg, der $5,000 bonds for his appar-at court on a charge of criminal. Taking of Church Census Is Systematically Begun

The taking of the church census in Charleroi has been begun under the direction of the Adult Federated classes, and two churches are ready to make reports from their districts. The others will get the work under way and completed as soon as possible. The town is divided into six districts and each Protestant church has a district, with the exception of the Baptist and French Presbyterian churches, which combine in doing the work in one district.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR OFFICIALS VISIT HERE

Methodists Welcome Rev. Richards To Local Church Chief Owners of Glass Factory Make Inspection

With a large assemblage of members of the congregation and their friends present a reception was tendered to Rev. F. A. Richards, the new pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, last night at the church. Preceding the rendition of a musical and literary program, the new pastor and his family were introduced to those present and tendered a warm welcome. A ladies double quartet and a male quartet furnished two selections each and were vigor usly applauded. Miss Mary Walters gave a reading. From the Ministerial Association and the Lutheran church Rev. C. E. Frontz brought a welcome, and Rev. G. G. Kerr, Rev. C. S. Joshua, Rev. J. E. Charles and Rev. L. W. Shyer said words of welcome from the various churches which they represent. Mrs. C. S. Joshua spoke in behalf of the women of the churches in welcoming the pastor's family and W. S. James on behalf of the Methodist congregation. Rev. Richards made a response in which he spoke of his associations elsewhere and said that from the free treatment he had already received he was very glad the conference had sent him here.

KEYSTONE EXHORTERS TALK HERE

Two County Seat Acheson Men Make Mild Addresses

Under the electric sign emblazoned with the inscription "For Governor, John K. Tener," at the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue, the cohorts of the Keystone party in Charleroi, strengthened by a larger majority of curiosity-seeking Tener adherents held an open-air spell-binding session last night.

For speakers there were Rev. Pressley Thompson of Washington, who has acquired considerable free advertising by his radical talks and writings within the past few weeks, and Rufus Marriner, Esq., of Washington, whom Acheson put up as a candidate for the Assembly nomination on the Republican ticket against Bentley and had the seeing him most John J.

October noted as the month of 1907 when all records were broken for coal shipments through Lock No. 4, this year witnessed rather a small shipment. Considering the conditions however, it was good and surpassed the October shipment for 1908, but was the second lowest shipment of this year. The total amount of coal passing through the lock during October was 14,538,000 bushels. The biggest daily shipment of the month was made on October 17, when 745,000 bushels were locked. During the month there were 592 lockages made down stream. Steamers passing down were 322 and there were 1,422 boats, barges and flats locked through. Up stream there were 620 lockages made, 321 steamers and 1,372 boats, barges and flats passing up. The rainfall was 1.53 inches, the most rainfall for a single day being on October 22 when .65 of an inch fell. During September 16,268,000 bushels of coal were put through Lock No. 4 and the previous month there was a total shipment of 15,697,000 bushels. During October 1909 there was a shipment of 15,320,000 bushels, and during 1908 there was a shipment of 11,440,000 bushels. The smallest shipment thus far this year was in April, when there was a 5,000,000 bushels locked. A number of barges taken up stream at the water

VETERANS REPUDIATE FALSE STATEMENT

A recent issue of the Pittsburgh Leader that the First National Bank of Charleroi is President, Charles Tener is President, and their pension check is obvious is a lie.

The Valley Crystal Ice and Storage company of North Charleroi yesterday received an especially large consignment of celery to be used in trade along the valley. The consignment consisted of five car loads having about 200 crates would mean something like a dozen bunches of celery to be sold within a short time in the bordering towns.

Methodist Bazaar On Friday and Saturday November 11 and 12, the Ladies League of the Methodist church will hold their annual bazaar in the basement of the church at corner of Sixth street and Lincoln avenue. As is their usual custom there will be booths for all divisions of the work and also lunch will be served.

THE BEY'S GUEST.

He Was Ready For the Emergency and Conquered the African.

A show of force is often the best kind of diplomacy. A writer in the Paris Temps tells a story of the French admiral Dupetit-Thouars, who had been intrusted with the mission of exacting reparation from an African bey who had insulted a French consul. As Dupetit-Thouars' demands were supported by the forcible argument of loaded cannon, the bey acknowledged that he had been too hasty and proffered profuse apologies. He even invited the admiral to his table and had a sumptuous repast prepared for his guest.

The consul warned the admiral to be on his guard.

"The bey is inclined to be malicious," said he, "and when he strokes his beard and smiles you may be sure that he is concealing some mischief."

"We shall see," was Dupetit-Thouars' reply.

He reached the bey's palace in good time. Profuse compliments and salutations were exchanged. All at once the admiral's foot met some soft, hairy substance lying on the carpet under the table. He bent down and saw a huge lion showing his formidable teeth. The bey smiled and stroked his beard.

Dupetit-Thouars did not wince, but called his dragoman.

"My pistols," was all he said.

The servant saluted, retired and brought back a pair of pistols on a silver tray. The admiral took them and placed them on the table before him. But the bey, still smiling, continued to stroke his patriarchal beard.

"Tell the commander," he said to the dragoman, "that if those pistols are for the purpose of blowing out my lion's brains they are quite inefficient and perfectly useless."

Then, like a skilled fencer countering his opponent's thrust, after the bey's ironical advice had been translated Dupetit-Thouars replied:

"Tell his highness that my pistols are not there to kill his lion, but to blow his own brains out at the first movement of this objectionable carpet."

Gravely, but a little pale, the man interpreted.

The smile died away on the bey's lips, and he no longer stroked his beard.

"My lion," said he, "is too well trained even to scratch one of my guests, but since he is not wanted he shall be sent away."

At a word from the bey the lion slowly and heavily left the room, like an obedient dog.

Taking a Chance.

The mistress was giving Harriet the benefit of her advice and counsel, touching a momentous step the latter contemplated.

"Of course, Harriet," said the lady at the house, "if you intend to get married that's your own business, but you mustn't forget that marriage is a very serious matter."

"Yes, mum," said Harriet, "yes, mum, I know 'tis sometimes, mum. But, mum, maybe I'll have better luck than you did, mum."—Brooklyn Life.

Facts For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Minneapolis, Minn.:—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to be derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. John G. Moidan, 2115 Second St., North Minneapolis, Minn.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

No matter how much it has been abused, we can fix your watch.
